Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

C. A. Churchill, 35 Merchant street, Barre, Vt., says: "I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in 1897 after I had taken them a short time and had found the best of results. After that, I continued their use and was entirely relieved of backaches, pains across my loins and other symptoms of kidney trouble. During the time that has since elapsed, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills on several occasions, getting them at Dr. Brown's drug store, and the same good results have always been received. I have also advised their use to friends and acquaintances whom I have heard complaining of backache."

Mrs. Albert R. Martin, who fell on the ice four weeks ago and more, is yet confined to her bed from her injury, but gains very slowly.

After some months of rather inferior health, Mrs. Hiram S. Drury begins to feel herself again and that means much to us of her household.

It was announced here last Sabbath from the pulpit that a town Sunday school convention would likely be held here next month. Date and particulars will come later.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. Walker are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Walker, of our village. Mr. Walker is engaged in a survey here for a map of our village.

One of our most prominent granite cutters tells us now that he thinks the Barre Times has dealt very honorably and kindly with the cutters since the great labor trouble began three months ago.

An informal meeting will be held at the lower town hall on Saturday evening next, the 19th inst., to talk up suitable candidates for town offices, to be chosen at the annual March meeting. All citizens are invited.

R. F. D. Mail Carrier Charles D. Brockway of route No. 1, went to find his barn a morning or two ago to find that his gray horse had broken a leg during the night, requiring that it be killed. He had bargained the horse for a sale at $20.

The two remaining sons, and now the only living children, of the late Squire Benedict, we have just heard of through a letter recently at hand. John R. Benedict, who is well along in the seventies in age, is living in Chicago, Ill., with a son, and the years have done their natural work in the matter of his health. His brother, Adney, perhaps 70 years of age, has lived for years in Florida, where he has had a great deal of ill health.

Mrs. Arthur Freeman is a daughter of the Rev. Thomas Teller, once a Baptist clergyman in Groton and now a resident of Cambridge, N. Y. He is in the Baptist ministry where he now lives. Mrs. Freeman has a brother, Arthur Teller, living in Little Rock, Arkansas, a lawyer, who is getting high praise down there for legal work in connection with prosecutions for cutting timber from government lands.

The Switzer, Peter Pasera, whose father, Charles Pasera, is a granite manufacturer here, tips the beam at some two hundred and more pounds, and he is yet in his teens. He was compelled to give up boxing because of the weight of his body, but he is a right-hand man for the firm, about the shop, and we look for him to be in the future one of our intelligent, worthy American citizens, eating his influence and ballots for that which will always tell for the good of our place. He is one of an interesting family of children.

NORTH CALAIS.

Clinton Thurston is on the sick list.

Mrs. Matilda Fair is in very poor health.

The auditors met at East Calais on Monday last.

Mrs. Harriet Reynolds has returned to her work at Col. H. S. Foster's.

Mrs. Eugene Reynolds has gone to Willamstown to care for her daughter, who is ill there.

There is to be a ball at Memorial hall, North Calais, on February 25. Gilbertson's orchestra will furnish music.

Miss Emily Vigeant closed a successful term of school at North Calais and has returned to her home in Elmore. The school registers of the town show a very small number of visitors, a fact to be deplored.

Schools closed in town last Friday. The school in Pekin seems to have carried off the honors this year. There were seven scholars this winter, and not a mark of any kind against their names on the school register. Those having no marks the entire year were Mary Ruth and Esther Converse and Mildred Gray. Merle and Ida Gray had only one absent day during the entire year.

GLAVIS STILL ON STAND.

His Testimony in the Land Case May Continue for Several Days More.

Washington, Feb. 17.—There was no morning session of the Ballinger-Pinchot committee of inquiry yesterday; adjournment had been taken Tuesday until two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Louis R. Glavis was under cross-examination all day Tuesday by Attorney John J. Vertrie, representing Mr. Ballinger, and the indications were when adjournment was taken that the questioning of this chief witness for the "prosecution" will continue for several days more. His examination is largely upon documentary evidence, and it takes considerable time to read reports, letters, etc., upon which questions ought to be asked. Mr. Glavis always insists upon coupling long explanations with his answers, and this also tends to delay progress. Henry M. Hoyt, attorney general for Porto Rico, who was consulted frequently by Glavis when Mr. Hoyt was a United States attorney at Seattle, has been in the city for several days and probably will succeed Glavis on the witness stand.

Pretty Home Wedding, Agnes Warren Becoming Bride of R. J. Marsh.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Dr. M. D. Warren on Main street last Monday morning at nine o'clock, in the presence of about 25 relatives, when his daughter, Agnes M., and Ralph J. Marsh were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. W. T. Sparhawk, pastor of the Congregational church, of which Miss Agnes is a member. Miss Marjorie Wells presided at the piano, and as the soft strains of Lohengrin's wedding march floated through the rooms the bridal party descended the stairs. Miss Agnes was accompanied by her father, the groom by Mrs. P. F. Lewis, an aunt of the bride. The two contracting parties took up their abode in the bay window, which was tastefully trimmed with festoons of crepe paper, caught up with ferns, smilax and bunches of fragrant carnations. The bride was given away by her father and the single ring service was used. She was attired in a gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony, refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, cake, ice cream and fruit. As the newly wedded couple hastily emerged from the house amid a shower of rice and confetti, they discovered that the young people of the vicinity had not forgotten to decorate their conveyance in the most modern style in honor of their trip to the Bermuda islands. The bride is the only daughter of Dr. M. D. Warren and has lived in Cabot nearly all her lifetime, obtaining her education here and in Moody's ladies' school at Northfield, Mass., and graduating at Montpelier seminary. She is highly esteemed among her many friends and acquaintances for her pleasant, genial, sympathetic nature. The groom is a highly educated young man and a graduate of Yale. After spending a few months in the West, he has returned to resume a former position in a laboratory as chemist. The wedding presents were numerous, useful and valuable, consisting of solid silver, cut glass, linen and cash. This worthy couple have the best wishes of their many friends. They will be at home in Wallingford, Conn., after March 25, 1910.

NATIVE AND FOREIGN BORN PEOPLE

Census Bureau's Instructions Regarding the Enumeration of Them.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—What the census enumerators are required to learn regarding the place of birth of native-born and foreign-born persons, and other personal facts concerning the latter class, in taking the thirteenth United States census, beginning April 15 next, is fully set forth in the printed instructions prepared by the United States census bureau to guide them in filing the population schedule. It is pointed out that all the questions relate only to conditions existing on April 15, the "census day."

On the subject of place of birth of a native-born person, the instructions state that if the person was born in the United States, the enumerator is to give the state or territory (not city or town) in which born. A person born in what is now West Virginia, North Dakota, South Dakota or Oklahoma should be reported as born, although at the time of birth the particular region may have had a different name.

Relative to conjugal condition, the enumerators are to report whether the person is single, married, widowed or divorced. Married persons are to be asked if they have been married before. If the present marriage is the first, the fact is to be indicated by the sign "M 1"; but if it is the second or subsequent marriage, then the enumerator is to write "M 2," meaning married more than once.

The question calling for the number of years of the present marriage is designed by the census bureau to apply only to persons reported as married, and the answer should give the number of years married to the present husband or wife. Thus, a woman who may have been married for 10 years to a former husband, but has been married only 3 years to her present husband, should be returned as married 3 years. The number of years entered should be the number of completed years. A person who on April 15, the "census day," has been married 3 years and 11 months should be returned as married 3 years. For a person married less than 1 year, the entry is to be "0," meaning less than 1 year.

In the case of persons speaking Polish or reporting that they were born in Poland, which is no longer an independent country, the enumerator is to inquire whether the birthplace was in what is now known as German Poland, or Austrian Poland, or Russian Poland, and he must write the answer according to the place (German, Polish, Aust., or Russian).

If the birthplace reported is Canada, the enumerator is required to ask whether the person is of English or French descent and write Canada (Eng.), or Canada (Fr.), according to the answer.

The question calling for the year of immigration in the United States applies to all foreign-born persons, male and female, of whatever age. It should be answered, therefore, for every person whose birthplace was in a foreign country. The enumerator must enter the year in which the person came to the United States. If he has been in the United States more than once, the year of his first arrival is to be stated.

The inquiry whether naturalized or alien applies only to foreign-born males 21 years and over. It does not apply to females, to foreign-born minors, or to any male born in the United States. If the person was born abroad, but has become a full citizen either by taking out second or final papers of naturalization or through the naturalization of his parents while he was under the age of 21 years, the enumerator is to write "Na" (for naturalized). If he has declared his intention to become an American citizen and taken out his "first papers," the enumerator is to write "AI" (for alien).

The inquiry as to the ability to speak English applies to all persons in years of age or over. If English is spoken, the enumerator must write "English" in the proper column. If the person enumerated is not able to speak English, the enumerator is required, in such cases only, to write out the name of the language spoken, as French, German, Italian, etc. If more than one language is spoken by a person who, however, does not speak English, then the enumerator is to write the name of that language which is his native language or mother tongue.

"Frauds upon the Public" is what some physicians have called patent medicines, and it is undeniably true that some are frauds and some are even worse, because they are injurious. On the other hand, there are many patent medicines, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and others, which are of real worth, and are recommended by physicians of recognized standing.

Like Finding Money

D. F. Davis, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money, for he is selling a regular 50c bottle of Dr. H. C. Brown's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount, he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist Davis, that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment, for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. H. C. Brown's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, D. F. Davis will return your money.

WOMAN AND FASHION

Frock For the Dancing Class.

It is surprising how quickly gowns grow passe when worn to dancing classes. It is also surprising how cheaply these frocks may be made if inexpensive materials are selected and the sewing is done at home. There is a wide range of fabrics, the silk and cotton mixtures being particularly desirable and of all, silk tulle and batiste in flowered design very charming. The mercedized cottons are also attractive and may be chosen if a gown is to be worn but a short time. Wise mothers will find that daughters enjoy themselves as thoroughly in frocks over which they are not obliged to worry through fear of soiling as in gowns of expensive materials and trimmings. French designers cannot be equaled in their perfect taste when exploiting little dresses for young girls. The one of simplicity is always ap

Lead Pencil Experiments.

An English statistician was asked how many words could be written with an English lead pencil, and, being determined to answer it, he bought a lead pencil and Scott's "Frasco" and proceeded to copy the latter word by word. He wrote 65,000 words and then was obliged to stop, for the pencil had become so short that he could not use it. A German statistician who heard of this experiment was disatisfied with it because all the lead in the pencil was not used on the work, and therefore he bought a pencil and started to copy a long German novel. When the pencil was so short that he could not handle it with his fingers he attached a holder to it, and it is said that he wrote with this one pencil 400,000 words. Possibly, however, his pencil was longer or the lead in it was of a more durable quality.

Protecting the Collar.

By way of a collar protector there is a soft fold of silk worn within the neck of the coat, and never were they more necessary than today. The cloth coat cannot be allowed to rub against the delicate lace and net of the modern yoke. No more is it advisable to allow the harsh grit thread of the metallic laces to wear away the broad cloth of the coat collar.

A bias of silk is folded together and slipped. Its ends are drawn to a point and finished with ball or tassel. This is fastened about the inside of the coat collar as far as the shoulder seems, so that it may be always in place at the back and may be crossed in front at the discretion of the wearer.

Its ends hang to the waist line and when the coat is opened fall gracefully, contributing to a decorative scheme if the color be chosen with the costume in view. Some of the French brocades may be thus utilized.

Winding Sticks.

A practical way of preserving the ribbon of various widths that is threatened through finger embroidery is provided by a stick furnished with a series of springs that hold one end of the ribbon securely while the length is neatly wound around the stick. The stick is glued to make it look pretty and has ornamental ends. It is large enough to take several coils of ribbon of various widths and yet not too large to be inconvenient in the work basket.

New Hatbands.

White hats are at the top of fashion. Girls are wearing untrimmed sailors of white heaver and felt trimmed only with a black and white or a colored band such as are sold for boys' hats.

It is finished with a fast pump bow at the side. This is a novelty that every girl will like. The white heaver cleans easily with yellow cornmeal or French chalk.
